

Love and understanding

This person takes my feelings into consideration and really listens to my problems. I feel good, safe and familiar with this person.

Practical support

This person helps me with odd jobs in the house, with money matters or with my personal administration. This person drives me to places in a car when I need that.

Counsel and good advice

I can go to this person when I no longer know what I should do. This person helps me find solutions to problems I have on my mind.

Companionship

With this person, I do things such as:
having a cup of coffee, shopping, going out,
chatting or texting.
